Bocce Competition 2010

Unified Sports® Bocce competition

Unified Sports is a moving and exciting initiative for higher ability athletes of all ages, from youth to adults. Mixed teams provide the public direct opportunities to experience first-hand the capabilities and courage of Special Olympics athletes.

By having fun together in a variety of sports ranging from basketball to golf to figure skating, Unified Sports athletes and partners improve their physical fitness, sharpen their skills, challenge the competition and help to overcome prejudices about intellectual disability.

Inspiring Leadership

Special Olympics Unified Sports is fun for all ages – but is particularly powerful as an educational tool in schools. Special education teachers have reported the program to be extremely effective at integrating youth, promoting physical activity and inspiring leadership. One teacher reported, “I’ve seen more interaction on the field today between classmates than I’ve seen in my classroom all year.”

Bocce is a game of skill and strategy. The object is for one team to get as many of their balls (boccia) closer to the pallina (the smallest ball) than the opposing team's closest ball.

There may be anywhere from two to four to eight players on a team. Each player is given two balls. Each player must then take turns rolling (lagging) the ball toward the pallina ball (also known as the jack, cue, beebie etc.), which has already been thrown onto the field. The players are given points for the balls rolled closest to the pallina ball. Players may also throw on the fly (volo), striking the ball to move the point ball. Balls, including the pallina, may also be displaced by the balls of other players.

Special Olympics athletes can also participate in Unified Sports® bocce competition. Special Olympics Unified Sports is a program that combines Special Olympics athletes and athletes without intellectual disabilities (partners) on sports teams for training and competition. In Unified Sports bocce, a doubles team would consist of one Special Olympics athlete and one partner; a team would consist of two Special Olympics athletes and two partners.

As in all Special Olympics sports, athletes are grouped in competition divisions according to ability level, age and gender.

Bocce Facts

- Bocce is one of Special Olympics' newer sports, having been introduced at the World Games level for the first time in 1995.
- The 2003 Special Olympics World Summer Games hosted 180 bocce athletes from 39 Special Olympics Programs. As of the 2005 Special Olympics Athlete Participation Report, 90,884 Special Olympics athletes compete in bocce.

There after , Unified partners ( Students of Jafari School) gave their feedback of the event. Some of their valuable comments are mentioned below;

Comments :-

“We have become so intimate with them that we don't want to depart from themselves”

“They are not weak and but real champions of the Competitions”

“They can play better than us”

“They have spirit of unity , they make us feel that we are in one team as well as in one family”

“During the program they kept staying with us rather than being with their coaches/Escorts”
